

N2E: Facilitating Transition from Nurse to Educator

Friday 20th September

9:00 am – 4:30 pm

Sharing Innovations

call for papers

Professor Margaret McAllister

in conjunction with the Centre for Professional Health Education

is pleased to announce the inaugural symposium

N2E – a community of practice to facilitate transitions from nurse to educator

This symposium will bring together students, nurse teachers, health service educators, academics and innovators interested in advancing the specialty of nursing education

Symposium Details

Venue:

CQU Noosa C1.14

Cost:

$40 ($10 students)

Abstracts invited:

See over for details

Refreshments provided

For further information contact
Margaret McAllister at m.mcallister@cqu.edu.au

Expressions of Interest

Register your interest in attending by sending full contact details, including email, so that a program can be forwarded to you in due course.

Abstracts Invited

Please include at least 1: aim, and 2: questions to promote audience discussion.

The due date has been extended to August 23rd 2013 to dduncan2@usc.edu.au

Details

Each presentation will be 15 minutes followed by 10 minutes of discussion. As this is our first symposium, the intention is to video tape the main speakers in order that insights can be widely shared.

Title

Given Name

Surname

Institution

Title

Abstract submitted

YES

NO

